About Innovarum

We are INNOVARUM (www.innovarum.es) a company founded in 2013 and based in Madrid. We assist entities operating in the agri-food sector and the bioeconomy in shaping, writing, communicating, and managing their R&D and Innovation projects. We mainly work with start-ups, SMEs, large companies, Universities, Research and Technological Centres from across Europe. We team up with our clients and assist them in making their innovations real. Currently, we take part in 8 EU projects. Our job is highly interesting and creative!

What we offer you

1. A position located in Madrid with a competitive salary range.
2. A professional path full of potential that supports ethical and environmentally sustainable projects.
3. A young, thriving, and international environment where individual actions and ideas are always valued.
4. Ample room for professional and personal growth: we are now embarking into an exciting new development phase!
5. Enjoyable and comfortable work environment: flexible working schedule, remote work opportunities and a well-connected modern office space.

What will your work be like in more detail?

We are looking for a project manager that helps us with the management of projects in the bioeconomy where Innovarum works as a partner. The person to hold this position will oversee project activities, mainly those related to the engagement of primary producers and the development of innovative services for bioeconomy implementation: working on stakeholder engagement, business model development, co-creation, etc.

The job also includes the preparation of technical reporting, overseeing financial reporting, attending project events, being in charge or participating in regular project management activities, and contributing to guarantee control and good performance of the project.

Additionally, the person to join the team will also be contributing to EU proposal writing and their submissions when necessary. This position involves travelling nationally and internationally throughout Europe to project-related events and consortium meetings as well as periodic team meetings. The person that fills this position will give as well support with other ongoing tasks.
